

What's Hot ORGANIC BEAUTY

Natural And Chirally Correct

You may be wondering what the heck Chirally Correct is! It's a process called "Organic Synthesis" – the science of producing ingredients in the laboratory. Organic chemistry can produce ingredients that are exactly the same as those that grow naturally outside the lab. So Chirally-Correct mirror molecules are completely compatible with our bodies. There is no difference to the body.

Organic Synthesis: This is done not just to imitate natural molecules but, more and more, to make new molecules with pharmacological activity.

And what it all means is that your skin gets the natural and pure ingredients it needs to look and feel its healthiest. CSC products give you advanced results with ingredients that can be easily utilized by your skin because they are the result of organic synthesis and advanced purification.

Beautiful Bonita

Bonita Face & Body was created in the US to provide an effective, versatile, naturally-derived range of organic skincare products.

After many years assisting patients and clients to reach their personal, physical and health-related goals, Bonita turned her focus towards assisting people to feel good about their skin and body in a healthy, non-toxic way and provide natural anti-aging solutions that work from the inside out.

Botanicals ingredients are handpicked by a master chemist for their freshness and quality, with all extraction taking place in-house by traditional methods. Bonita Botanicals believes that luxury can be provided through nature. Fair trade is utilized wherever possible.

Bonita Face & Body's core philosophy is to provide products that do what they say they will do while providing a pure and healthy range free of petrochemicals, toxins and harmful ingredients. A truly natural alternative.
